Audio Interview: Covid-19 Vaccines and Pregnancy — A Conversation with CDC Director Rochelle Walensky

Eric J. Rubin, M.D., Ph.D., Lindsey R. Baden, M.D., Rochelle P. Walensky, M.D., M.P.H., and Stephen Morrissey, Ph.D.

The continuing spread of SARS-CoV-2 remains a Public Health Emergency of International Concern. What physicians need to know about transmission, diagnosis, and treatment of Covid-19 is the subject of ongoing updates from infectious disease experts at the Journal.

In this audio interview conducted on April 16, 2021, the editors are joined by CDC director and infectious disease physician Rochelle Walensky to discuss a new study of Covid-19 vaccination in pregnancy, as well as a phase 3 trial of Ad26.COV2.S.
